

CODE OF CONDUCT

All users of ICOMIA website and any contributions they make to the website must comply with this Code of Conduct. Your use of our website means that you accept and agree to abide by this Code of Conduct. By "contributions" we refer to any update or material posted or uploaded to our website by a member. Please ensure the following:

- If a member disagrees with a contribution made by another member, please get in touch with ICOMIA Secretariat who will approach both parties concerned and post an updated response.
- Press is not allowed to use any of the contributions made on ICOMIA website, unless this has been provided by ICOMIA Communications Manager.
- In case of breach of this code of conduct the ICOMIA Secretariat reserves the right to moderate further submissions by concerned individuals.
- When posting an official country update, a member should coordinate the submission with the relevant MIA.
- Contributions must not infringe anyone else's rights, including copyright.
- Contributions must not contain unlawful content nor involve disruptive, offensive or abusive comments.
- Contributions must not involve any spamming or advertising.